

Rapid Response Containment Boom™

The first response for protection against sheen

Infused with patented Mycel x™ binds to hydrocarbons without absorbing water

Best for protection against sheen in environmentally sensitive areas

Easy to store and deploy can be stored and re-used until fully saturated

Interconnecting 10 foot sections for optimal coverage

The Rapid Response Containment Boom, infused with Mycelx™, offers best protection against sheen in environmentally sensitive areas.

Once deployed, the Rapid Response Containment Boom stops and binds to sheen before it can devastate fragile coast line eco-systems. Best used in marshlands and quieter water.

Each 10 foot section can be linked together to provide as much coverage as needed in any situation.
